Causes of excessive inflammation
- Obesity
- Infections
- Autoimmune diseases
- Allergies
- Others

Effects of excessive inflammation on female fertility
- Excessive inflammation can make the immune systems hyperactive, negatively affecting women's fertility.
- Infertile women also demonstrate a higher prevalence of excessive inflammation, which can reduce pregnancy rates and increase miscarriage risks.
- Physicians and patients are often unaware of immune system hyperactivity, because it can be completely asymptomatic.

Fertility Nutraceuticals was established in 2011 to offer high-quality, nutritional supplements designed specifically to support male and female fertility. Fertility Nutraceuticals’s flagship product is FERTINATAL®, the only high-quality DHEA supplement specifically developed for female fertility.
